

Replication report: step 2

 Published

 Edit

 _

- Together with the members of your group:
1. Read the paper you have chosen, and discuss in your slack channel with the members of your group about what you think are the 2-3 most important anthropological claims about the paper you have chosen. As a guide, look at the figures of the table to see what are the important findings. Remember that frequent, clear communication is vital to successful group work
  2. Identify the raw data files associated with your publication that you will need to validate at least one of these claims. Make a folder for this assignment, and download the data file(s) to this folder your computer. If you have a dedicated folder for this project, you will find it easier to keep track of things.
  3. Submit to canvas the 2-3 key claims that you have identified from your close reading of the paper. Please write them as full sentences typical of professional writing.
  4. Submit to canvas the data file(s) that you will be using to validate at least one of the claims in the paper.

Points2

Submittinga text entry box or a file upload

Due	For	Available from	Until
Apr 29	Everyone	Apr 18 at 12am	-

 Rubric